Bridgewater Bank Welcomes Josh Orloff as Senior Vice President, Commercial Banking

St. Louis Park, MN – Bridgewater Bank, a leading Twin Cities bank focused on meeting the unique needs of successful individuals and entrepreneurs, is pleased to announce that Josh Orloff has joined its growing team as Senior Vice President, Commercial Banking.

Orloff brings extensive commercial banking experience and deep expertise in SBA lending, with a background spanning credit analysis, underwriting, lending management, business development and sales leadership. Most recently, he served as Vice President, Commercial Lending Officer at Lake Elmo Bank. Prior to that, Orloff held SBA sales leadership roles at Platinum Bank, VelocitySBA and iBusiness Funding. He also spent more than 12 years at Wells Fargo in a variety of banking, credit and SBA lending roles.

In his new role on Bridgewater's SBA team, Orloff will develop new loan and deposit relationships while managing an existing portfolio of commercial banking clients. Drawing on his robust experience, he will work closely with entrepreneurs and business owners to understand their financing needs and structure tailored lending solutions that support their growth.

"Josh's impressive SBA background and relationship-based approach make him an excellent addition to our team," said Tony Ferraro, Chief Lending Officer at Bridgewater Bank. "His well-rounded perspective will be an asset to our clients, helping them identify the right financing solutions and move their businesses forward."
